

Our History

Community Living Society has a long and successful history and this first section gives you a glimpse into the main events spanning over thirty years. Our philosophy, including the Beliefs and Values developed by families in 1976, still provides the cornerstone of our success and values today.

The Society is an organization rooted in its strong and resilient belief system: that every individual is unique, has intrinsic worth and deserves a life of dignity in community with others. With this strong foundation we have managed change over the years so that we also remain an organization that is flexible and responsive to the ever changing needs of those we support, their families and networks and our employees.

Our current organizational structure is also included in this section. We have grown over the years and external demands increase every day. Nevertheless, we are proud of our ability to provide personalized service to everyone in the CLS Community and hold true to our belief that everyone's rights must be respected and valued.
