

Learning and Growing with the CLS

At the CLS we are committed to helping you acquire the knowledge and skills needed to do your job well. We recognize the importance of ongoing training, development and education to your growth both as a person and an employee. We encourage you to participate in the various workshops and learning experiences we have made available.

We offer a mix of courses ranging from short in-services to workshops lasting several days. Some are designed and facilitated by people within the CLS community, and others are offered by external consultants. The original core program at CLS was initiated and developed by a committee made up of employees, networks, and management staff. Currently, Management and Employee Services with input from employees like you, look at the effectiveness of the learning opportunities, promote continuous improvement, and look into new and exciting initiatives.

As always, we encourage your feedback and ideas for continued improvement to learning and growing at CLS. You can contact Employee Services or make your suggestions through the Liaison Committee or the Employee Suggestion Box. We welcome any input. Please read on to see what the CLS offers you.
