

Good Relations Within the CLS Community

This section describes two important frameworks within CLS whereby you can address problems or concerns as well as receive support when needed to resolve differences. Both of these frameworks are accessible to supported individuals, family and network members and CLS employees. The intent is to provide safe and responsive means whereby positive change can be implemented and differences can be resolved effectively.